

Dear

Sir/Madam,

Firstly, I would like to thank you for your hasty response to my application.

I'm very excited to look forward to this opportunity, in which, a possibility of partnership with content.

I will proceed to follow your process, with the communications and methodologies, to the next stage of our affiliation.

I wanted to give you a little more content and information , with regards to who, what, why and how I indulge in my creative content.

My name is Charlie Rudd, however, I write under a pseudo name Robyn Rudd.

You will find over 200 articles on the platform medium.

I have a handle called,” Gossip, by Coming Up for Air”

There you will find a broad variety of subjects, in which I have written, on subjects with relevance to today and the world or society we inhabit, my attitudes towards in and then, creative and business articles. Some based around marketing, others management consulting and others miscellaneous or of the spiritual nature.

My creativity has now spilled into 3 novels awaiting publication and one screenplay submitted to the BBC and over 200 articles, on Medium, under the handle “Gossip By Coming Up for Air”

My content featured on Gossip is a versatile, no holding back, off white, subjects, ranging from, today’s certain celebrities, generally the Under Doggs , with a deep observations of the society, that I inhabit, with a benefit of, a childhood experiencing, such layers, of role models, especially male, compensating from a divorced set of parents, with opposite backgrounds, yet both very entertaining.

Then, my role models, including a step father, who is a poet, songwriter and English literature teacher..

This is where my story telling, coupled with my Public school, speech and drama ,extra curriculum, derived from.

This one could say, is where my pen began its flow and still flows today, yet it has growth throughout life and wisdom. .

At my age of 43, today I have decided to, with the influence of those around me, to showcase my creativity, into those larger platforms and those which are closer to my dreams in screen writing.

You can view my writing via OUREAD Magazine each month I produce articles OUREAD.online

Medium is a world platform where I host my handle Gossip by coming up for air there are versatile articles for good reading.

I have articles on blogger and Wordpress under the handle Our Media UK

My main both business and author monologue where you can contact myself and where my work is showcasing if you follow the link and the link within the website you can find my Art, writing, novels, screenplays, poetry and Bloggs.
